Sir,

I was yesterday waited upm by Daniel Bread and Jacob Cornelius chiefs and other principal men of the Oneidas in reference to a new apportionment of their annuities. They stated that their last apportionment was made ten or 12 years ago since which time their has been a constant accessim to the number residing here by immigration from that portion of the tribe remaining in New York by which the number here is increasing and which it is decreasing there. The consequence is that the perporion off annuity to each individual here is becoming less every year and increasing in like ratio with those remaining there.

They ask that a census be done here and in New York and a new apportionment made if possible this season before them next payment.

Very respectfully your obedient servant
