Wisconsin tribal leaders met with Governor Tony Evers and his administration to sign consultation agreements at the Radisson Hotel & Conference Center December 9. Oneida Nation Chairman Tehassi Hill, Vice Chairman Brandon Stevens, Treasurer Cristina Danforth, and Councilmember Marie Summers took part in the event which will strengthen the nearly already open-door relationships between the Evers Administration and Wisconsin's First Nations.

Representatives from Wisconsin's Native Nations were also on hand for the momentous occasion including Stockbridge-Munsee President Shannon Holsey, Menominee Nation Chairman Ron Corn Sr., Forest County Potawatomi Chairman Ned Daniels Jr., Red Cliff Chairman Christopher Boyd, St. Croix Band of Chippewa Indian's Michael Decorah, and Lac du Flambeau President John Johnson Sr.

"We are honored to be here with the governor and his secretaries of the state with the signing of the consultation agreements between the sovereign governments here today," Oneida Nation Chairman Tehassi Hill said. "For centuries Indigenous sovereign nations and governments have entered into treaties and agreements with federal, state, and local governments.

"Today the state reaffirms the government-to-government relationship between the state and tribal governments and requires strengthening of the working relationship between the two governments. This initiative is a comprehensive program aimed at increasing ties between the state agencies and tribal governments in order to streamline and improve the services that our governments provide to both tribal and non-tribal citizens.

“Consultation leads to better communication and policy development in preparing better guidelines and requirements for tribal programs and services administered by the state,” Hill said. “I would like to thank the representatives of the Tribal Caucus along with former Oneida Nation Secretary Lisa Summers for the years of service she put into developing and drafting this document.”

“In 2004 Governor Doyle signed Executive Order #39 recognizing the government-to-government relationship between the State of Wisconsin and the federally recognized tribal governments,” Governor Evers said. “In 2019, shortly after taking office, I reaffirmed that position by signing Executive Order #18 which recognized tribal nation’s sovereignty and renewed our commitment to work collaboratively throughout my administration.

“As we know, this sort of collaboration and partnership doesn’t just happen,” Evers said. “It takes intentional work, it takes dedicated individuals showing up and reaching out, it takes all of us. That’s especially true as we fought the challenges of COVID-19 which made connecting and collaborating even more difficult. Many state and tribal governments turned their attention and efforts to keeping our communities healthy and safe.”

Governor Evers then announced the signing of the consultation agreements between the state and all 11 Wisconsin Native Nations. “(This) recommits the State of Wisconsin and our administration to respectful and cooperative communication in a collaborative manner and to achieving consensus to the greatest extent possible,” Evers said. “These agreements are a recognition that there is tremendous potential for our state and the tribes to work together for the benefit of everybody.”

Evers acknowledged the signing of the agreements is only the beginning. “The real work begins in the months and years ahead in living up to these expectations that we’ve set, in growing and developing this relationship together, and in updating and reviewing our work along the way,” Evers said.

Stockbridge-Munsee Band of Mohican Indians President Shannon Holsey then praised the Evers Administration for sticking to their promises of working closely with Wisconsin’s First Nations. “On day one Gov. Evers said he was going to succinctly engage tribal nations on issues that mattered most,” Holsey said. “(This) is encouraging and refreshing because we as tribal leaders have never seen the type of engagement among his secretary cabinet as we are seeing now, which has resulted in so many positive aspects even during a pandemic. We were resilient and adaptable, and Gov. Evers always answered the call and supported us as we equally supported him.

“We look forward to continuing to work with Gov. Evers and his phenomenal cabinet and tribal leaders to guide those initiatives that will be meaningful to our tribal communities and communities at large,” Holsey said.

With the Holiday Season upon us, many of us are reminded of beloved Tribal Historian Loretta Metoxen's annual tradition of making Hoyan donuts for the community. Hoyan is a Native tradition in which families, friends, and community members traveled from home-to-home on New Year's Day and collected donuts, bread, apples, and other assorted treats. Oyan (which translates to "another one" in English and is commonly spelled "Hoyan") has been celebrated in Oneida for as long as our elders can remember. Tekahwasute will not be with us to make Hoyan donuts this year, but her passion and loving spirit for her Oneida Nation, and all things traditional, most certainly will be. Hoyan!

THUNDERHAWK TIMES

What's Not to Like?

By Isaiah Silva

Thunderhawk Times

If you are a Packer fan, you have to be pretty happy with your team right now.

After all, the Packers are 10-3 coming off their late-season bye week and a Sunday night win over the Chicago Bears.

That makes them just a half-game behind the Arizona Cardinals for the NFC lead. It also puts them in first place in the NFC North Division with games against the Lions and Vikings still ahead.

Their other two games are against the Browns and the Ravens.

A lot of players are helping the Packers win right now including Aaron Rodgers and Davonte Adams. Jaire Alexander will be returning to the lineup soon as will other key players.

By the way, if they did win the Super Bowl, they would have 14 NFL Championships, which is the most in NFL history. The Bears are second with 9.

School Calendar

By Thunderhawk Times Staff

Keeping track of the school days and vacation days over the next month can get pretty crazy sometimes.

Here's a quick look at what lies ahead for days off, half-days, vacation days, back to school after vacation days and so on.

The second half of the second quarter began on December 2. That means there is about a month of class4es left in the first semester.

Winter break for the Christmas and New Year holidays begins with a 12:30 dismissal on Wednesday, December 22. School is off through Sunday, January 2 with classes resuming on Monday, January 3.

Mid-Winter Ceremonies are on the school calendar for January 7-10 and school is not in session. The end of the Second Quarter and First Semester is Thursday, January 13 with the Second Semester starting on Friday, January 14.

Looking ahead, February is less hectic. Watch "Thunderhawk Times" for details.

Oneida Civics Class Takes Historic Oneida Field Trip

By Thunderhawk Times Staff

Part One of a Two-Part Series

It was sunny, but a little bit windy and cold when ONHS social studies teacher, Jeanne Lillich, took her Oneida Civics class on a two-and-a-half-hour trip to historic sites on the Oneida Reservation.

We started on West Mason Street where we visited the historic homes at Salt Pork Avenue and the nearby longhouse.

From there, we went to the areas around the health center and Site One, then down Freedom Road past the historic Episcopal and Methodist churches to the Oneida Museum.

From there, to Chicago Corners and the Buffalo Farm to the Oneida Longhouse and Thornberry Creek. Then, back to "downtown Oneida" and the Service Road area before returning to Norbert Hill Center.

Next issue: Detail on the sites the group visited by Adrian House-Cabrera.

Brain Power

By Thunderhawk Times Staff

“What does mindfulness mean?” asks Rebecca Wheaton, Brain Power Wellness Trainer.

ONHS students respond with “Being in the moment” and “being aware of others.”

And, with that, ONHS students and staff are engaging in various activities meant to engage their brains.

Early this school year, Rebecca met with all ONHS Reading and Homeroom Groups to discuss what “brain power” was all about and how it could help them focus.

Beginning Monday, November 29, Rebecca rejoined the groups via Google Classroom. She had staff and students focus and then do some brain power exercises. Some were physically active, and others were mentally challenging.

A second session took place on Monday, December 13.

“As we grow in our regularity of seeing each other,” Rebecca told the staff, “Brain Power will become more of a culture of wellness in the classroom.”

She is also making it a point to combine her Brain Power lessons with Oneida cultural principles.

“This is a terrific way to build community and consistency to establish more wellness and fun into our lives. Be well and of one mind,” she signed off the session on November 29.

If you want some fun at home, try this brain power exercise: Put your left and right index fingers out in front of you and simultaneously trace a triangle in the air with one hand and a square with the other. Then switch which finger is drawing which shape.

My Scoop: The Acellus Plan

By Loren Sanapaw

Thunderhawk Times

Regular classes aren’t for me. Long, boring lectures by teachers and work. Lots of work.

As a senior looking to graduate this year, I tried taking classes and it just didn’t work for me. I am now working on Acellus courses.

“What’s an Acellus course?” you ask.

It’s a self-contained educational program done at your own pace online with courses in all subject areas.

For me, the biggest advantage is I get work done with nobody bothering me.

Secrets to getting through Acellus courses are time, patience and listening to the online instruction.

The Acellus courses don’t just take the place of some regular classes. Many ONHS teachers with regular class use the Acellus courses to add to or expand what their course covers.

ACT Prep

By Thunderhawk Times Staff

For some ONHS seniors, college is right around the corner and there is plenty to think about as you get ready for the experience.

To help the school’s seniors and some juniors, ONHS math instructor, Jessica Kachur, and guidance counselor, Sarah Phillips, are assisting with preparation for the ACT test during homeroom.

I realize some students are seeing it [preparing for and taking the test] as hard,” Jessica said. “But we all need to be encouraging these students to take this huge step towards their future!”

The test was scheduled for Saturday, December 11, but had to be rescheduled due to the winter storm. The regular next test date is February 12 and registration must be completed online by January 7, 2022.

Christmas Tree Safety

As you deck the halls this holiday season, be fire smart. A small fire that spreads to a Christmas tree can grow large very quickly.

PICKING THE TREE

- Choose a tree with fresh, green needles that do not fall off when touched.

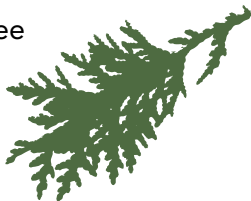

PLACING THE TREE

- Before placing the tree in the stand, cut 2" from the base of the trunk.
- Make sure the tree is at least three feet away from any heat source, like fireplaces, radiators, candles, heat vents or lights.
- Make sure the tree is not blocking an exit.
- Add water to the tree stand. Be sure to add water daily.

LIGHTING THE TREE

- Use lights that are listed by a qualified testing laboratory. Some lights are only for indoor or outdoor use.
- Replace any string of lights with worn or broken cords or loose bulb connections. Read manufacturer's instructions for number of light strands to connect.
- Never use lit candles to decorate the tree.
- Always turn off Christmas tree lights before leaving home or going to bed.

After Christmas

Get rid of the tree after Christmas or when it is dry. Dried-out trees are a fire danger and should not be left in the home or garage, or placed outside against the home.

Check with your local community to find a recycling program.

Bring outdoor electrical lights inside after the holidays to prevent hazards and make them last longer.

FACTS

- ! Almost one third of home Christmas tree fires are caused by electrical problems.
- ! Although Christmas tree fires are not common, when they do occur, they are more likely to be serious.
- ! A heat source too close to the tree causes more than one in every five of the fires.

Notice of Paper Shortage

Oneida Printing's contracted paper supplier has informed the print shop of monthly paper supply limits. Should BC/GTC mailouts occur resulting in a paper supply shortage, only a limited number of print versions of the Kali will be able to be produced. This will also impact individual department's printing. Yawako for your understanding.
